

YOGA PRACTICE APPROPRIATE FOR WOMEN DURING MENSTRUATION

10

Tell the teacher at the beginning of class that you are menstruating. A quiet practice of sitting postures, supported postures and supported forward bends is best for the physical conditions of menstruation. This practice also creates a quiet and centered mind.

If you have normal periods, are not experiencing discomfort, and are attending a regular class, you may do late standing poses: Utthita Trikonasana, Utthita Parsvakonasana, Virabhadrasana II and Ardha Chandrasana with support of the wall. Also Parsvottanasana can be done with hands on the wall. At home the standing postures are better dropped in favor of supported supine postures and supported forward bends. For menstrual difficulties please consult your teacher.

Avoid all inversions and strenuous postures including these:

- Urdhva Mukha Svanasana and active backbends
- Chaturanga Dandasana
- Jathara Parivartanasana, Urdhva Prasarita Padasana, and Navasana (abdominal work)
- Jumpings
- Rope work
- Arm Balances
